

Field Trip Frequently Asked Questions

What is ArtPrize?

ArtPrize is a renowned international art event that transforms the city into an open gallery, showcasing a vast array of contemporary artworks from artists all around the world. It is a unique opportunity to experience diverse art installations, exhibits, and performances.

What is the purpose of an ArtPrize Education Field Trip?

The ArtPrize Education Field Trip aims to provide students with an immersive and interactive art experience. It offers a chance for students to explore various artworks, engage with artists, and participate in hands-on activities that foster creativity and critical thinking.

Is the ArtPrize Education Field Trip suitable for all grade levels?

Yes, the ArtPrize Education Field Trip is designed to cater to students of all grade levels. The exhibits and activities are curated to be engaging and educational for elementary, middle, and high school students.

What will students do during the field trip?

During the field trip, students will enjoy guided tours of the ArtPrize exhibits, led by knowledgeable guides who will provide insights into the artworks and their creators. Students will also have the opportunity to participate in interactive workshops and hands-on art activities, encouraging them to unleash their creativity.

How long does the field trip typically last?

The duration of the field trip may vary depending on the specific itinerary and activities planned. Generally, field trips can last 90 minutes, allowing ample time for students to explore and engage with the art.

Is the field trip free of charge?

Yes! ArtPrize Education Field Trips are offered free of charge to participating schools and students. ArtPrize is committed to making art accessible and inclusive for all.

What should students wear for the field trip?

Students should wear comfortable clothes suitable for walking and exploring art installations. It's also advisable to dress in layers, considering the weather forecast, and wear comfortable walking shoes.

Are there any safety measures in place for the field trip?

ArtPrize prioritizes the safety and well-being of all participants. The field trip will have trained guides and chaperones, and emergency protocols will be in place. Please ensure that any specific medical conditions or allergies are communicated beforehand.

Can parents or guardians accompany the field trip?

Parents or guardians are generally not included in the school-organized field trips. However, schools may have their specific policies regarding parent participation. Please check with the school administration for further details.

How can our school sign up for an ArtPrize Education Field Trip?

To schedule an ArtPrize Education Field Trip for your school, please check out our registration page on the Cultivate website. We will be happy to assist you in planning a memorable and enriching experience for your students.

Can schools from outside the local area participate in the field trip?

Absolutely! ArtPrize welcomes schools from both the local area and beyond to participate in the education field trips. Please contact our education department to discuss the logistics and make suitable arrangements for your school group.

Is there any follow-up material or resources for educators after the field trip?

Yes, ArtPrize provides art magazines to kids and resources for educators to continue the learning experience in the classroom. These resources may include discussion guides, art-related activities, and further insights into the artworks.

We hope this FAQ section addresses your queries about the ArtPrize Education Field Trip!

If you have any additional questions or require further information, please do not hesitate to contact our education department - education@artprize.org

We look forward to welcoming your school group to an unforgettable art-filled experience at ArtPrize!